The graph shows a comparison of CO₂ (ppm) and cumulative NEE (gC m⁻²) over the months from January to December. The CO₂ concentration is represented by a purple diamond line, while the MBL (Monthly Best Limit) is shown in red circles. The cumulative NEE is depicted as a black triangle line. The CO₂ concentration peaks in late summer and early autumn, while the cumulative NEE exhibits a seasonal pattern with peaks and troughs throughout the year.